

The Humanities Faculty Colloquium Presents:

AMIA SRINIVASAN

GENEALOGY, POLITICS AND WORLDMAKING

WHITNEY HUMANITIES CENTER, ROOM 108
4:30PM, 53 WALL ST, NEW HAVEN, CT

03
26

Many theorists have seen genealogy as a means towards politically transformative ends. But why should the excavation of the contingent origins of our representational practices -- our beliefs, concepts and values -- have such a radical force?